JAM/OPEN MIC NIGHTS

I recently discovered how great Jam/Open Mic nights are at Stewart Maguire's Landing. The concept of Jam / Open Mic nights is anyone who is interested in getting up on stage to Jam with the house band is welcome. Here is an opportunity for musicians of any caliber to come together and perform with other musicians. It's a great way for aspiring musicians to gain experience and for seasoned artists to practice. A prime example of this is Izzy a talented, budding young artist taking the stage with her Dad, Mars from the band Table 69.

Andrew Hunt the lead vocalist and guitarist of the house band heads this Jam on Sunday nights from 9 - 11 pm. He invites you to come on out and have some fun in a supportive environment.

Even if you're not up to taking the stage to jam, it really is a night to hear some quality music by some very talented musicians. The house band is really good! For those of you who wish to join them, just show up with your instrument (no need to transport your drums) and let Andrew know that you are interested in jamming.
