ABOUT THIS GUIDE

Venews Entertainment Guide is a printed and online resource of events that are happening in Caledon and the surrounding area. There are so many exciting things going on in the community. The local music scene is growing and there are several places to be entertained. You can find something to do pretty much every day of the week. Karaoke, live bands, individual performing artists, jam sessions, plays, musicals, dancing, latin dance instruction and much more.

It's quite amazing how much local talent you can find in the area. Many of the local music schools are teaching and guiding students of all ages. If you've always wanted to learn a particular instrument why not take a few lessons. There is no better time than now.

Visit Venews Entertainment Guide online at www.venews.ca and subscribe for free updates. Check out the event calendar. Become a contributor and send in your events, stories, comments and suggestions. Wishing you all the best for 2014.

GET OUT GET SOCIAL

Let's face it whether you've just moved to Caledon or have been here all your life, as you get older it's often difficult to establish a social network. Things change, people change. If you are young and still in school it's much easier. As an adult with a young family often your social circle revolves around your children's activities. What about life outside of those activities?

You might be able to find a good network by becoming involved in the community, perhaps going to church, volunteering, belonging to a social club such as a book, country club, tennis or various sports clubs. For many it's difficult to find the time.

If you're active and social, need some additional excitement in your life, enjoy music, dancing, chatting this may be for you. Ladies only Social Night, Dance Night for anyone men or women who like to dance.

Send an email to social@venews.ca if you would like to be notified.

SINGER SONGWRITER CARLO COPPOLA

A kind, gentle and humble soul are the words I use to describe Carlo Coppola a multi-talented award winning singer/ songwriter who also happens to teach at Hit That Note music school. If it wasn't for Ida the owner of Hit That Note, I would never have known that he was a highly acclaimed artist as often conversations with Carlo revolve around family. When I did ask him about his music and Juno Award he was very humble about it.

Carlo was born and raised in Canada to Italian parents. From a very young age he has had a love of music and was encouraged by his teachers and mentors to pursue music further. He played in various bands and at the age of 18 went on a cross Canadian tour with his band and was voted the "best up and coming band".

Carlo is internationally known, he writes and sings in English, Italian & Spanish and is passionate about music. Now that he is not on tour he continues to perform for various charities, special functions, events and festivals. When he is not writing, performing or spending time with his family you can find him sharing his talents with students of all ages at Hit That Note music school. Carlo teaches Guitar, Vocal & Songwriting.

GREEK MUSIC ON QUEEN STREET

Archtop brought the Danforth to Bolton for a night of Greek Music. It had been 14 years since Stephen Slutsky had played the accordion with his friend Costas Apostolakis an accomplished Greek Bouzouki Master. Rodrigo Chavez who is the Artistic Director of a latin fusion band accompanied them on the classical guitar. It was a cozy and intimate evening of traditional Greek music, which warmed the hearts of the audience and filled them with good cheer.
